

CLEVELAND BIRD REPORT

The annual 'Cleveland Bird Report' is a repository of interesting and historically important ornithological observations made within Cleveland's boundary. Each report is expertly written by our members and also contains photographs of some of the birds recorded.

The Club welcomes records from anyone for inclusion in the Report and these should be sent to the County Recorder, Tom Francis, 108 Ashton Road, Glebe Estate, Norton. TS20 1RE by 31st January each year (or email to: tom.francis@ntlworld.com).

Record slips can be obtained from the Recorder, collected at evening meetings or downloaded off the Website.

TEESMOUTH BIRD CLUB

Red-breasted Merganser (Eric James)

Registered Charity No. 508850

BACKGROUND

The Teesmouth Bird Club is a thriving bird club with a very active membership of over 500. The geographically small area known as 'Cleveland' faces the east coast and has a wide variety of habitats. Consequently, the birding here can be exciting and is always interesting.

Whether you are an expert or beginner, the door is always open to new members.

If you are interested in birds in Cleveland, or would like to be, why not join us.

The Club offers to members:

- The chance to meet and socialise with other birdwatchers who are also interested in Cleveland's birds.
- A Newsletter three times a year.
- Access to private sites at Dormans Pool (and the Jeff Youngs Hide), the Reclamation Pond and Crookfoot Reservoir.
- Monthly indoor meetings from September to April inclusive.
- A copy of the annual 'Cleveland Bird Report'.
- Monthly local outings.
